DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-11 and 15, drawn to an infant movement analysis system with analyzing device that determines movements of limbs of an infant and identifies a disease and/or symptom from correlativity of movement.

Group II, claim(s) 12, drawn to an infant movement analysis system with an analyzing device that judges whether or not an infant newly photographed has a disease or not according to a judgment condition set based on distribution of movement data.

Group III, claim(s) 13 and 16, drawn to infant movement analysis method with step of identifying a disease.

Group IV, claim(s) 14, drawn to an infant movement analysis method with step of using database to generate a judgement condition.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I does not include an analyzing device that judges whether an infant has a disease or not according to a judgment condition based on distribution data of infants judges as normal infants with respect to the disease, while Group II does not include an analyzing device that determines movements of limbs of the infant and identifies a disease or symptoms from correlativity of movements of the limbs.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group III does not include an analyzing device that determines movements of limbs of the infant and identifies a disease or symptoms from correlativity of movements of the limbs.

4. The inventions listed as Groups I and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I does not include that judge whether an infant has a disease or not according to a judgment condition based on distribution data of infants judges as normal infants with respect to the disease, while Group IV does not include an analyzing device that determines movements of limbs of the infant and identifies a disease or symptoms from correlativity of movements of the limbs.

5. The inventions listed as Groups II and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group III does not include an analyzing device that judges whether an infant has a disease or not according to a judgment condition.

6. The inventions listed as Groups II and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group IV does not include an analyzing device that judges whether an infant has a disease or not according to a judgment condition.

7. The inventions listed as Groups III and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group III does not judge whether an infant has a disease or not according to a judgment condition.

8. A telephone call was made to Applicant's representative Mr. Stephen Chin on 11/26/2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to John Pani whose telephone number is 571-270-1996. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 7:30 am - 5:00 pm EST.
